

NEWSNUGGETS

Bishop Hits Millionaires.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., OCT. 2.—In his sermon before confirming a large class at St. Paul's Catholic Church in this city yesterday Bishop Patrick A. Ludden, of Syracuse, urged living upright, Christian lives in fact as well as in appearance, and said: "Look at these New York millionaires of whom we read much in the newspapers at this time. On Sundays they go to church with their Bibles under their arms, and on weekdays they are engaged in stealing millions from the people."

Jap Trade Improving.

TOKIO, OCT. 2.—A surprise in prices took place again to-day in the local share market, with every indication that business activity will gradually overcome the depression caused by the treaty of peace. The new alliance with Great Britain has inspired a feeling of perfect confidence in the future tranquility of the situation in commercial circles, and much activity is expected soon in all lines of business.

Roosevelt's Georgia Trip.

ROSWELL, GA., OCT. 2.—Plans have been perfected for the entertainment of President Roosevelt, who will come here Oct. 20 to inspect Bullock Hall, the girlhood home of his mother, and the place where she was married to the President's father many years ago. Senator Gray will welcome the President, and with Mayor Sherman and others will escort the Presidential party to Bullock Hall in carriages.

New Tartar Attack.

LONDON, OCT. 2.—The Times correspondent at Erivan, Transcaucasia, says that firing between Tartars and Armenians took place yesterday afternoon in front of the Governor-General's quarters and that a few persons were killed. Troops soon quelled the disturbance.

Marshall Field, Jr., to Sail.

LIVERPOOL, OCT. 2.—The White Star line steamer Baltic, which will sail from here for New York next Wednesday, takes among her passengers J. L. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Field, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Cowdy, W. Allen Smith and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Woodside.

Pastor Called West.

ST. LOUIS, OCT. 2.—By the unanimous vote of the Board of Trustees a C. S. has been extended to the Rev. Dr. W. C. Billing, of the Mount Morris Baptist Church, New York City, to succeed Rev. Dr. W. W. Boyd, whose resignation as pastor of the Second Baptist Church of this city was accepted last December.

Cuban Bandit Killed.

GUANA, CUBA, OCT. 2.—It is reported that the famous Cuban bandit, Calvo Oriol, has been killed by rural guards. Oriol had been condemned to death for several murders. Many attempts had been made to capture him, and during these attempts two men were killed in the belief that each was Oriol.

Woman Killed Hunting.

DEANSON, TEX., OCT. 2.—Mrs. F. J. Lewis, wife of the elder engineer of the Beaumont Irrigation Company, while out hunting with her husband yesterday was shot through the heart by a passing deer or a wild animal.

Gov. Herrick in Auto Hold-up.

CLEVELAND, OCT. 2.—Gov. Myron T. Herrick, while speeding his automobile through Euclid Township yesterday was halted by the town marshal and warned against the violation of the speed ordinance. The Governor was not injured.

Swiss Going to the Hague.

BERNE, SWITZERLAND, OCT. 2.—The Federal Council has received the invitation of Russia to participate in the second peace conference at The Hague. The official note issued on the subject says the question of the Red Cross is reserved and that Switzerland is the earliest opportunity to take up the revision of the Geneva Convention.

Taken as Bigamist in Church.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., OCT. 2.—J. Walter L. Franklin was arrested here last night by detectives while taking part in the services of the Salvation Army on the charge of bigamy. Franklin is alleged to have three wives.

GRAND JURY SWORN IN.

Members Told There is Nothing of Unusual Importance to Consider.

Judge Newburger, in Part I, General Sessions, to-day, impealed the October Grand Jury, of which Gen. Daniel A. Wyke, of No. 50 Central Park South, is the foreman. Judge Newburger told the Grand Jury that District-Attorney Jerome had informed him there was nothing of a public nature that deserved mention at this time.

"Should it become necessary," said the Judge, "to charge you upon any specific subject demanding investigation I will do it when the emergency arises."

Gen. Wyke's associates on the jury are: Henry Mallon, Judson Lewison, Michael Levy, Charles S. Troop, Irving W. Thompson, George B. Tracy, H. L. Joyce, Aaron Schubart, Grant Good, Moses L. Mead, Kilman Hays, Andrew P. Nashman, William C. Popper, William S. Lester, J. Lewis Scheffer, James M. Lehmann, George G. Schaeffer, George W. Maynard Hollister, George E. Morris, Abraham C. Quackenbush, Bradley L. Eaton.

WATCHMAN FOUND DEAD.

Existed Alone in Building, Supposedly of Heart Failure.

Morris Klein, sixty-five years old, watchman in the building at Nos. 100-102 Nassau street, died there last night, supposedly of heart failure. Employees of Morrison & Co.'s tailoring establishment, on the third floor, found the body in their workroom, when they entered it to get some work done.

An ambulance surgeon from the Hudson Street Hospital pronounced Klein dead. The watchman was homeless and without known relatives or friends.

ACTRESS SUED ON BOARD BILL.

ACTRESS SUED ON BOARD BILL FOR $630.86

Dorothy Morton, in Supplementary Proceedings, Says Name Is "Macarty."

Dorothy Morton, actress, owed $630.86 balance to ex-Assemblyman "Paddy" Roach on board bill at the Rossmore Hotel, and Patrick H. Roach obtained judgment in a suit for it. He hasn't got the $630.86 yet, and his lawyers, Hynes, Wayteek & Schaap, to-day had Miss Morton before Justice Leventritt, of the Supreme Court, for examination in supplementary proceedings to find out why. Mr. Schaap conducted the examination.

Actress Is Defiant.

Miss Morton was rather defiant, though she declared that she didn't like "these examinations," as they made her nervous.

"What is your name?" began Schaap.

"Dorothy Morton."

Q. Not your real name? A. Why, I gave you my name.

Q. I must have your real name in private life, not your stage name, which is a very excellent name in your profession. A. Dorothy Macarty.

Q. Mac—A. No. Mac—on—tary.

Miss Morton said her last engagement was last week at Hurting & Seaman's. She was paid $800.

Actress Got Last Salary.

"The last before that was for four weeks on the New York Roof," she said. "I was a summer snap for me, and I worked for the girls—four hours a day and only got a dollar to start with. But I didn't get that."

Q. Did the management fail? A. Oh, no, the management paid it, all right; but I didn't get it—my creditors got it.

It developed later that Miss Morton gave her name as "Elizabeth" not "Dorothy." She said she obtained the New York Roof contract through her marriage.

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."

"If you lawyers will stop bothering me this way I can pay up all I owe," she concluded, "now that I have regained my health and am able to accept engagements."

A voice from behind the actress said at this point: "I signed the contract."

"You? All right, you?"

"Yes, that's so," said Miss Morton. "He is my husband. His name is Conner."

"But you have just told me your real name is Elizabeth Macarty."

"Yes, that's so, was, when this suit was brought, and the actress beamed like a June bride upon Mr. Conner."